About National Agriculture Bank for Rural Development (NABARD):

GENESIS & VISION

- The importance of institutional credit in boosting rural economy has been clear to the Government of India right from its early stages of planning. Therefore, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) at the instance of the Government of India, constituted a Committee to Review the Arrangements for Institutional Credit for Agriculture and Rural Development (CRAFICARD) to look into these very critical aspects. The Committee was formed on 30 March 1979, under the Chairmanship of Shri B. Sivaraman, former Member of Planning Commission, Government of India.
- The Committee's interim report, submitted on 28 November 1979, outlined the need for a new organisational device for providing undivided attention, forceful direction and pointed focus to credit related issues linked with rural development. Its recommendation was formation of a unique development financial institution which would address these aspirations and creation of National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) was approved by the Parliament through Act 61 of 1981.
- NABARD came into existence on 12 July 1982 by transferring the agricultural credit functions of RBI and refinance functions of the then Agricultural Refinance and Development Corporation (ARDC). It was dedicated to the service of the nation by the late Prime Minister Smt. Indira Gandhi on 05 November 1982. Set up with an initial capital of Rs.100 crore, its' paid up capital stood at Rs.17,080 crore as on 31 March 2022. Consequent to the revision in the composition of share capital between Government of India and RBI, NABARD today is fully owned by Government of India.

VISION:

- Development Bank of the Nation for Fostering Rural Prosperity

MISSION:

- Promote sustainable and equitable agriculture and rural development through participative financial and non-financial interventions, innovations, technology and institutional development for securing prosperity.

What Is the Difference Between NABARD and RBI?

- The Reserve Bank of India is the country's central bank, with sole authority to regulate the banking industry and supervise the various institutions/banks, including NABARD, as defined by the Banking Regulation Act of 1949.
- NABARD makes recommendations to the Reserve Bank of India on the issuance of licences to cooperative banks, as well as the establishment of new branches by state cooperative banks and regional rural banks (RRBs).
- The RBI and NABARD collaborate on many developmental and regulatory projects.
- The RBI provides three directors to the NABARD Board of Directors.

What is NABARD's Governance Structure?

- The affairs of NABARD are governed by a Board of Directors. In accordance with the NABARD Act, the Board of Directors is appointed by the Government of India.
